I'd Buy That For A Dollar!

This is the heart and soul of the entire ordeal. Published every few months (or so), each new issue is, "The on-going textual struggle for Austin Rich's soul!" Filled to the brim with music reviews, collages & musings on girls. One part emo, one part rock 'n' roll with a pinch of acid damage.

1 - #5, #7 - #15 Available. $1.00 Each

Plasma Whore

No longer in production (that I'm aware of), this low-tech operation was full of dissertations on being single & drunk in Portland and were, to quote Mr. Beer Powered Bicycle,
"Punk As Fuck." Everythign was written by PBR and even the show reviews were timeless. Rumors are abound that she'll pick up where she left off. We'll see. For now, here's the first seven issues. Soon there'll be a book of all of them bound in one volume.

#1 - #7 Send Two Stamps For Each Issue (That's it.)

Ramen City, U.S.A.

The bottom line is there aren't enough things I can say about this 'zine. It is probably the best 'zine I've ever read, written by the Ramen City Kid. Wise beyond his years each issue offers his unique perspectives on dreams, music, eastern Europe and cute pups.

#1 - #15. Send Two Stamps For Each Issue (That's it.)

Dollar Ramen Whore

This is a collaborative effort by The Ramen City Kid, myself (Austin Rich) and PBR (or Plasma Whore). This is what happens when three 'zine writers live together and want to commemorate the house they shared together.

Send $1.00

Mall (by G.M.)

This mini-zine is all about the trials & tribulations of working at Gateway Mall, written when I still used the "G.M." pseudonym.

Send A Stamp. (That's it.)

Cigarette (by Austin Rich)

This publication is gaining itself a little notoriety these days, and I for one am glad. It's small and short (comparitively), but within these pages I expore how I quit smoking, with musings and text edited from my (apparently too personal) journal. There's a few blurry photos, but it's mostly text.

Kings (by The Ramen City Kid.)

This mini-zine contains various concepts concerning the ideas of kings and rulers. Probably my favorite of his one-shots.

Send A Stamp. (That's it.)

|-----|

Unnilhexium (by The Ramen City Kid.)

This one is a collage-type production with outer-space and science type themes. It reminds me of a school textbook. I love it.

Send A Stamp. (That's it.)

|-----|

Radom (by The Ramen City Kid)

This one was written entirely while in the city of Radom in Poland. To me, it really conveys the sense of being confused and stranded in another country.

Send A Stamp. (That's it.)

|-----|

Cap Gun Suicide (by The Ramen City Kid)

This one contains variations on a futurist theme. Very eastern europe inspired if you ask me.

Send A Stamp. (That's it.)

Bob's Imagination

In 1993 I edited four collections of student writing from Cottage Grove High School. Primitive and poorly financed, this was where I first got my start in writing and 'zine production. I have limited quantities of each issue and when they sell out (or when I finally get up off my ass and get it ready) I plan to collect them all in one (heavily edited) volume. Until then they are available here. Find out what I was doing in the beginning. Scary. Be warned: much of the material is incomplete ("To Be Continued") as we assumed there would be more than four issues. I plan to fix that with the re-release.

#1 - #4 Available. $2.00 Each.

Bob's Annex

The companion zine to Bob's Imagination. While I was editing the school sanctioned magazine it was being supervised by a teacher who ended up cutting and censoring a lot of student writing that was intended for publication. Bob's Annex was my attempt to feature the censored material. Eventually I plan to collect these in one (edited) volume as well.

#1 & #3 Are Still Available (I'm out of #2). $1.00 Each

Neutered Prunes "Rock 'N' Roll & Sauerkraut." CD

This album is a 12 song frolic through the tattered landscapes of Kiisu D'salyss's mind as he copes with life in Reno, NV. Kiisu is the ex-vocalist of Cathead, who now exhibits a King Missile-ish approach to music with such hits as, "Who Shot Elvis," "War Ensemble (Down Home Mix)," and, "Cartoon Music For Criminals." A good old-fashioned romp through the world of modern cultural flotsam & jetsam, and rumor has it the album is out of print from anywhere but here. Don't delay! Order today!

Cassettes:

"Neutered Prunes--Rock 'N' Roll & Sauerkraut" on Tape!

"Cathead: The Cassette" A sort-of 'best-of' tape of Cathead's recorded musical history (for those who even remember it). This tape will be accompanied by a companion 'zine cleverly titled "Cathead: The 'Zine" and will contain reproductions of flyers, photos of the band, some interviews, and a full history of the band. Scary!

"The Church Of Blasphuphmus (Not Jesus) Hour With Yet Another Pope Austin Rich [Tape 1]" This tape is edited from the first four episodes of what was my rarely-heard radio show (as I don't do it anymore). With any luck, I'll actually finish this project and get on to Tape 2, 3, 4, etc. May or may not come with a companion 'zine... maybe just weird liner notes. Who knows?

T-Shirts:

I'm currently trying to get into cahoots with either Mondale Ransom, Mondale Chris or another friend here in Portland in an attempt to bring you "I'd Buy That For A Dollar" t-shirts. If all goes as I would like it to, the shirts will have the barcode sticker logo (edited, of course) on the front and the "A.C.R.O.N.Y.M." logo on the back. We'll see.

If You Like A.C.R.O.N.Y.M. Publishing, Why Not Try:

GyrlXPresents

Written by GyrlX, this is the first example I've gotten to know what it's like to be, "on the other side of the counter." Lots of fun-to-read text about boys, jobs, caffeine & music. GyrlXPresents is currently available from us, or you can contact her at:

GyrlXpresents@aol.com

Honey Vizer

Honey lives in Eugene and is the best acoustic live act I've ever seen. She also draws silly comics and makes her own stickers, and if you write to her she may or may not send you any of these things (or other stuff) from her address here:

Honey Vizer's Entertainment Monarchy: P.O. Box 133, Eugene, OR 97440.

Huevos Rancheros

I keep hearing there is a second issue, but I'm only ever seen this first one that I keep plugging. In it, McFly ponders cute girls, nerd-rock, alcohol and other important things in his text-heavy, hilarious matter-of-fact style. This issue alone is a must for keeping up with the dork-rock elite. You can either write to me to get it or try writing to him at:

Huevos Ranceros 642 E. 17th #C4 Eugene, OR 97401
#1 Available. $1.00 Each.

I and I

"I and I" is written by DogBite, the only rastafarian, punk rock, Latino, skinhead, Communist, cracker Blazer Fan I know that's in the Navy. And we're not talking about the Village People sense of the word: honestly, he's in the Navy. Thus far I've only seen the first issue. You can either write to me or write to him at his own publishing empire:

Drunken Fist Publishing 485A Caffrey Ct #389, Moterey, CA 93944.

#1 Available. Send $1.00

Mondale

If you don't know who Mondale is (and you're pretty sure it's not the one who's the American Ambassador for Japan) and you want to know more, why not check out their website for more information? They are, after all, dork rockers:

<http://www.teleport.com/~reckless/mondale/index.html>

(This site may move, but this address will forward you to the new location if it does.)
